2025 Fred Case Award

In 2007 Fred Case of Case Design/Remodeling created the Fred Case Remodeling Entrepreneur of the Year Award to recognize innovative remodeling businesses. These include new business processes; unique building processes or use of materials; streamlined systems; relevant training programs; and creative use of technology. Applicants for the award must be an individual owner or partnership in business for three years and have revenue less than $8 million. Applications are judged on four criteria: community service, business acumen, achievement, and entrepreneurial spirit.

This year's winner is Steve Tankersley, owner and president of Tankersley Construction, based in Rancho Cordova, California. Addressing a shortage of skilled labor and leveraging connections to lead community initiatives, Steve showed that entrepreneurship is about seeing opportunities and capitalizing on them.
